

For Immediate Release:

September 1, 2016

Delaware Police Department launches Own Facebook page

DELAWARE – The City of Delaware Police Department announced this week the launch of its own Facebook page, which is meant to provide the latest information on crime trends and prevention.

"Our department is very focused on getting information out to the public as quickly and effectively as possible," Chief Bruce Pijanowski said. "Having our own Facebook page is just one more tool for us to use."

In addition to posting crime trends and tips on how to avoid becoming a victim, the page will broadcast traffic delays, road closures, department press releases, public service announcements and upcoming programs and events.

The department since 2010 has had a presence on the official City of Delaware Facebook page – <https://www.facebook.com/City-of-Delaware-Ohio>.

"Having our own page will allow the department to reach our citizens in a more timely and focused manner, and provide an even broader sense of transparency, Pijanowski said. "The good work being performed by the men and women of the Delaware Police Department deserves to be spotlighted."

The public is invited to like the page at: <https://www.facebook.com/Delaware-Ohio-Police-Department>. In addition, residents can follow the department on Twitter at @DelawareOhioPD.